What the amendment does

The amendment proposes to implement the recommendations of The Mansfield Planning Scheme Review, November 2022 (The Review). Strategic assessment of the amendment

Why is the amendment required?

The Amendment is required to implement the Mansfield Planning Scheme Review, November 2022. It is a review of the Mansfield Planning Scheme which is required every four years under Section 12B of the Planning and Environment Act, 1987 (The Act). The review is required to check that the Planning Scheme is consistent with any directions or guidelines issued by the Minister for Planning under section 7(5) of The Act, identify policy and strategy gaps and make recommendations to improve the operation of the planning scheme.

The review was led by the Regional Planning Hub from the Department of Transport and Planning. The review involved a comprehensive audit of the Mansfield Planning Scheme and the effectiveness of the Local Planning Policy Framework, and the previous Mansfield Planning Scheme review from 2015.

Since the previous review, Mansfield Shire Adopted and completed amendment C53mans which translated the Local Planning Policy Framework for the Mansfield Planning Scheme into the new format introduced by amendment VC148. Amendment C53mans largely considered many areas usually covered by a planning scheme review, meaning that there are less significant changes proposed now by amendment C57mans.

The Amendment makes changes to ensure that the Mansfield Planning Scheme is written in accordance with section 7(5) of The Act for form and content of planning schemes.

The Amendment also implements relevant policies and ordinance changes proposed in documents previously adopted but not yet implemented into the Mansfield Planning Scheme. The following documents informed the Planning Scheme Review, and are proposed to be inserted as background documents in the Schedule to Clause 72.08 (Background Documents):

- The Mansfield Open Space Strategy, January 2023
- The Mansfield Open Space Strategy Open Space Contributions Plan, January 2023
- The Mansfield Planning Strategy, 2021

Additional documents also informed the preparation of The Review and have policies to be implemented into the Mansfield Planning Scheme. However, these do not wholly include information which is directly relevant to the planning scheme and are therefore not appropriate to be included as background documents in accordance with the recommendations of the Practitioners Guide to Victoria's Planning Schemes, 2022. Documents which have informed The Review but are not proposed to be implemented as background documents are as follows:

- The Mansfield Council Plan, 2021
- The Mansfield Commercial and Industrial Land Use Strategy, 2021
- The Activating Lake Eildon Masterplan, 2020
- The Taungurung Country Plan, 2016
- The Gunaikurnai Whole of Country Plan, 2015

Not all elements of these documents are included to be implemented as part of the review, in particular the extensive scope of the Mansfield Planning Strategy means that it will be implemented through a separate proposed planning scheme amendment, C60mans.

The amendment introduces recommendations from the Mansfield Open Space Strategy, and Mansfield Open Space Strategy Open Space Contributions Plan January 2023 by inserting new local policies for open space and sustainable transport and introducing open space provision requirements into the Schedule to Clause 53.01.

The Open Space Contributions are required to ensure that community benefit is gained relative to the scale of development in Mansfield Shire. A detailed explanation of how the contributions have been calculated is as follows:

Within the MOSS, public open space gaps were identified, noting that each residence should have access to public open space within a 400-metre distance. 7 areas within Mansfield Township were identified as being required for future open space to provide adequate amenity for future residents.

The value of each of these open spaces was calculated, and the relative costs to construct these spaces to having appropriate community infrastructure.

Subdivisions by lot yield were totalled between 2016 to 2021 to determine the percentages of size of each development across the Mansfield Shire and are as follows:

- 2-4 lots: 86%
- 5-9 lots: 8%
- 10+ lots: 6%

On this basis, a sliding scale has been proposed to capture open space contributions in accordance with the scale of development. The scale employs principles of equity and cost apportionment through various types of subdivisions within the Shire by recognising that residential developments are different to Commercial or Industrial type subdivisions and that different scales of subdivision should provide varying degrees of open space provision. These amounts should be in accordance with the expected future growth of an area and the contributions received from them should be expended into the improvement of those areas. The amendment aims to achieve fair contributions through proposing the following open space contribution brackets:

- 2-4 lots: 5% in line with the Subdivision Act, 1988
- 5-9 lots: 6%
- 10+ lots: 7.5%
- Mixed Use, Commercial or Industrial: 5%, in accordance with the Precinct Structure Planning Guidelines, prepared by the Growth Areas Authority.

A detailed breakdown of the calculations is included as a supporting document to this amendment, titled: "Mansfield C57mans Mansfield Open Space Strategy Contribution Calculations".

The Amendment recognises the significance of preserving the township's unique historical, cultural, and aesthetic landmarks by amending Clause 15.01-1L (Urban design in Mansfield Township) to clarify the strategies included to achieve desired urban design outcomes.

f) Facilitate development in accordance with the objectives;

The amendment achieves this objective by introducing a suite of planning scheme provisions to guide development for the benefit of Mansfield Shire, consistent with state, regional and local planning policy.

Resource and administrative costs

What impact will the new planning provisions have on the resource and administrative costs of the responsible authority?

The amendment will benefit Council as the Responsible Authority by reducing both resource and administrative costs. This will be achieved through having a having the planning scheme updated to clarify planning policies and controls and include new ones which are in accordance with the Ministerial Direction for form and content and reduce the time spent by officers needing to interpret planning controls that are unclear or create confusion by duplicating other planning scheme policies or not providing clear directions.

The amendment will also reduce the burden of justifying proposed percentages in public open space contributions accrued through the subdivision act. It does this by clearly denoting the brackets for contribution percentages and providing a more equitable and consistent framework for collecting development contributions.
