Bushfire recovery support for businesses

Recovery support is available for businesses impacted by the summer 2026 Victorian bushfires.

Businesses in areas impacted by the bushfires can access one-on-one, confidential support from two free services:

Business Victoria's Business Recovery Advisory Service

- Business Recovery Advisers can help business owners to navigate the available supports and plan for long-term recovery.

Small Business Financial Counselling

- Specialist financial counsellors can help businesses who are in, or at risk of, financial hardship because of the bushfires.

These services are jointly funded by the Australian and Victorian Governments.

We appreciate your support in promoting these services to impacted businesses.

How to access support

Business Victoria's Business Recovery Advisory Service: Register on the Business Victoria website or visit your local recovery centre.

Small Business Financial Counselling: Visit the Business Victoria website for information about how to contact your local Rural Financial Counselling Service.

Support is available in-person, over the phone or online.

- access support services, including local crisis support services and mental health support
- plan business recovery (including business continuity and contingency planning) and build resilience for future challenges.

What support can financial counsellors provide?

Specialist financial counsellors can provide financial counselling to impacted businesses who are in, or at risk of, financial hardship.

Financial counselling can include:

- information about debt issues and your financial rights
- comprehensive assessment of debts and financial obligations
- advice on creating manageable debt repayment plans
- guidance on negotiating with creditors and advocacy negotiation with your consent
- education on preventive measures to build financial resilience
- referrals to other services such as accountancy, legal, insolvency, mental health and business advisory services.

Which businesses are eligible for help?

- All businesses impacted or located within one of the local government areas affected by the summer 2026 Victorian bushfires are eligible for these services.
- For more information, businesses can call the Business Victoria Hotline on 13 22 15 (Monday to Friday, 9am – 5pm) or visit a local recovery centre.

Is support only available online?

Business Recovery Advisers are available in person (where possible), at recovery centres and online, to help businesses navigate the various supports available to them.

Specialist small business financial counsellors are available in person, or via telephone or video conferencing.

FAQs

Can I use both services?

Yes, businesses can get support from both services.

Businesses can access support from Business Victoria's Business Recovery Advisory Service and their local Rural Financial Counselling Service.

Alternatively, they can begin by registering with Business Victoria's Business Recovery Advisory Service for an initial conversation about their circumstances and the available supports.

What if I don't know which service to use?

If someone doesn't know which service is most relevant for their business, they should register for support from Business Victoria's Business Recovery Advisory Service.

The experienced Business Recovery Advisers can help people to understand the available supports and provide referrals to other services and programs.

Who is providing these two services?

These services are being provided by local business recovery and financial counselling experts.

- Community Business Connect (North East Victoria)
- FinWell Support (Western Victoria)
- NEX Business Farming Wellness (Eastern Victoria)

The Australian and Victorian Governments are jointly funding these services.

What other supports are available?

The Victorian Government is working with emergency services, local councils and the Australian Government to understand the impacts of these fires on businesses and communities.
