

Child Safety and Wellbeing Policy

Department/Unit	Community Health & Wellbeing	First Implemented	17 July 2018	Review Date	June 2029
Origin	Executive Manager Community Health & Wellbeing	Reviewed	April 2026	Version	4
Authorising Officer	Endorsement by Council	Effective From	30 June 2026	Records Reference	E1533

Purpose/Objective

This policy outlines Mansfield Shire Council's (Council's) commitment to the safety and wellbeing of children and young people and the promotion and protection of their rights. It takes into account Council's legislative requirements to comply with Victorian Child Safe Standards and the Child Wellbeing and Safety Act 2005 (the Act).

The policy sets clear expectations regarding what is required to keep children and young people safe and outlines responsibilities for reporting suspected child harm, neglect or abuse.

Scope

This policy applies to all Council employees, councillors, contracted employees and agency staff engaged by Council, volunteers, students on placement with Council and other authorised personnel of Mansfield Shire Council. It applies in all operational environments wherever children or young people are participating in Council activities, programs or facilities.

This policy also applies to any contractors engaged for work on or around facilities where children or young people are present.

Victoria Child Safe Standards

All Victorian organisations that provide services or facilities to children or young people are required by law to comply with the Child Safe Standards. Council is regulated by the Social Services Regulator.

The 11 Victorian Child Safe Standards are:

- ▶ Child Safe Standard 1 – Organisations establish a culturally safe environment in which the diverse and unique identities and experiences of Aboriginal children and young people are respected and valued.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 2 – Child safety and wellbeing is embedded in organisational leadership, governance and culture.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 3 – Children and young people are empowered about their rights, participate in decisions affecting them and are taken seriously.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 4 – Families and communities are informed and involved in promoting child safety and wellbeing.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 5 – Equity is upheld and diverse needs respected in policy and practice.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 6 – People working with children and young people are suitable and supported to reflect child safety and wellbeing values in practice.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 7 – Processes for complaints and concerns are child focused.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 8 – Staff and volunteers are equipped with the knowledge, skills and awareness to keep children and young people safe through ongoing education and training.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 9 – Physical and online environments promote safety and wellbeing while minimising the opportunity for children and young people to be harmed.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 10 – Implementation of the Child Safe Standards is regularly reviewed and improved.
- ▶ Child Safe Standard 11 – Policies and procedures document how the organisation is safe for children and young people.

Child Safety Officer

Council appoints the holder of the position of Executive Manager Community Health and Wellbeing to the position of Child Safety Officer. Their contact details are clearly displayed in posters in all Council buildings, Council's website and Council's internal intranet.

This position is available for staff to refer to for guidance on the implementation of the standards and reportable conduct scheme as well as parents, children and young people.

Commitment to Child Safety

Council has zero tolerance of all forms of child abuse and all allegations and safety concerns will be treated seriously and consistently with policies, procedures and the law.

Council will publicly display Council's Commitment to Child Safety at all Council offices and on Council's website (refer Appendix A).

Council has legal and ethical obligations to contact authorities when there is concern regarding a child's safety.

Council is committed to identifying child safety risks early and removing and reducing these risks wherever possible.

Council is committed to the cultural safety of Aboriginal children/young people, the cultural safety of children/young people from a culturally and/or linguistically diverse background, providing a safe environment for children/young people with a disability, and the safety of all vulnerable children.

Council has a code of conduct in place that establishes clear expectations for appropriate behaviour with children and young people.

Recruitment, Screening, Supervision and Training

Council will take all reasonable steps to employ appropriately skilled people to work with children and young people.

Council understands that when recruiting employees and volunteers there are ethical as well as legislative obligations.

All Councillors, during their elected term, are required to hold a Victorian Working with Children Check (WWCC) and must provide evidence of this check.

All employees engaged in child-related work, or who are occasionally required to interact with children or young people during the course of doing their job, are required to hold a Victorian Working with Children Check (WWCC) and must provide evidence of this check.

All Council volunteers engaged in child-related work, or who are occasionally required to interact with children or young people during the course of their volunteer duties, are required to hold a current Victorian WWCC. There is no cost to apply for a Volunteer WWCC.

All consultants and contractors undertaking child related work are required under the Working with Children Act 2005 to hold a current Victorian WWCC. Compliance with the Working with Children Act 2005 and associated costs of a WWCC is the responsibility of the contracted organisation. The relevant contract manager is responsible for keeping record of this.

As part of employee recruitment process, Council carries out reference checks and police record checks to mitigate the risk of harm to children and young people in the provision of its services.

Council will train Council personnel engaged in child-related work, or who are occasionally required to interact with children or young people during the course of doing their job, to identify, assess and minimise the risk of harm to children and young people and to detect potential signs of harm to children or young people.

Privacy, Technology and Social Media

Council has safeguards and practices in place to ensure any personal information is protected. Persons whose information is collected will be informed about the information collected, what will be done with it and who will have access to it in accordance with Council's Privacy and Data Protection Policy.

All personal information considered or recorded will respect the privacy of the individuals involved, whether they be councillors, employees, volunteers or contractors, unless there is a known threat to safety and disclosure of the information is permitted or required by law.

All Council personnel must protect the privacy of information about children, young people and their families in accordance with Council's Privacy and Data Protection Policy.

All Council personnel must ensure that technology and social media are used appropriately in connection with children or young people, including by:

- ▶ ensuring that any use of technology and social media is not detrimental to any child or harmful to their safety; and
- ▶ act in accordance with all relevant legislation, processes, guidelines and operating rules.

Any Council personnel who photographs or films children or young people, or uses their image, must:

- ▶ obtain informed consent from a parent or guardian of the child and, where appropriate, directly from the child or young person (form available in associated procedure);
- ▶ ensure that the content and purpose of the photographs, film and video material are appropriate, and
- ▶ present children or young people in a dignified and respectful manner.

Reporting Suspected Child Harm, Neglect or Abuse

Mandatory Reporting:

- ▶ Crimes Act 1958 – Section 327 of the Crimes Act 1958 requires anyone over 18 who reasonably believes a sexual offense against a child under 16 has occurred to report it to the police as soon as practicable. Failure to do so is a criminal offense, with exceptions for those who have already reported it to child protection or have a reasonable excuse.
- ▶ Children, Youth and Families Act 2005 – Under the Children, Youth and Families Act 2005, mandatory reporters must make a report to child protection, if:
 - in the course of practising their profession or carrying out duties of their office, position or employment, and/or
 - they form a belief on reasonable grounds that a child is in need of protection from physical injury or sexual abuse.

Mandatory reporters are certain classes of professionals who are legally required to report a reasonable belief of child physical or sexual abuse to child protection authorities. A full list of mandatory reporters under the Children, Youth and Families Act 2005 is listed in this Policy under the definitions.

Reportable Conduct Scheme:

Council must comply with reporting obligations under Victoria's Reportable Conduct Scheme (the Scheme).

The Scheme requires heads of organisations (for councils this is the Chief Executive Officer (CEO)) to respond to reportable allegations of child abuse and other child-related misconduct made against their organisation's workers, volunteers or contractors (including those supplied by an external labour hire agency, company or other provider, and secondees). The head of organisation must notify the Social Services Regulator (SSR) within three days of becoming aware of the allegation and within 30 calendar days after becoming aware of a reportable allegation, must provide the SSR with detailed information about the allegation, disciplinary or other actions undertaken, and the response of the worker or volunteer to the allegation.

There are 5 types of reportable conduct listed in the Child Wellbeing and Safety Act 2005:

- ▶ sexual offences committed against, with or in the presence of a child.
- ▶ sexual misconduct committed against, with or in the presence of a child.
- ▶ physical violence against, with or in the presence of a child.
- ▶ any behaviour that causes significant emotional or psychological harm to a child.
- ▶ significant neglect of a child.

Heads of organisations are responsible for ensuring that an investigation is conducted. If an allegation might involve criminal conduct and has been reported to Victoria Police, an organisation must not start their own investigation until and unless police have provided clearance to commence.

Reasonable Belief: Council has a responsibility to report an allegation of abuse if it forms a reasonable belief that an incident took place. Reasonable belief does not require evidence.

Factors contributing to reasonable belief may be:

- ▶ A child states they or someone they know has been abused (noting that sometimes the child may in fact be referring to themselves).
- ▶ someone who knows a child states that the child has been physically or sexually abused.
- ▶ professional observations of the child's physical condition, behaviour or development leads a professional to form a belief that the child has been physically or sexually abused.
- ▶ signs of physical or sexual abuse lead to a belief that the child has been physically or sexually abused.

If an adult forms a reasonable belief that an incident of abuse has occurred, then they must report the incident and respond according to the Victoria's Child Safe Standards and Reportable Conduct Scheme and Council's Child's Safety and Reportable Conduct Reporting Procedures.

Record Management

Council will keep full and accurate records about all child-related complaints or safety concerns, including the outcome of any investigations and the resolution of any complaints.

All child safety complaints, concerns, incidents and near misses will be recorded on Council's incident register.

Council will protect individuals' privacy and manage all child-safety records as prescribed by the Privacy & Data Protection Act 2014 and the Health Records Act 2001.

Cultural Safety, Participation and Empowerment of Children

Council is committed to empowering children and young people by involving them in decision making, especially about matters that directly affect them.

Council will uphold the rights of children and young people so that they feel heard on matters relevant to their safety and so that they feel safe and protected.

Council promotes diversity and tolerance in the organisation and promotes inclusive behaviour.

Council is committed to promoting safety, participation and empowerment of vulnerable children and young people, such as those who are Aboriginal, LGBTIQ+, cannot live at home, are from culturally or linguistically diverse backgrounds or who have a disability.

Appendix A: Child Safety Statement of Commitment Poster

Council's Commitment to Child Safety

Mansfield Shire Council is committed to ensuring the safety and wellbeing of children and young people. We have a zero-tolerance approach to all forms of child abuse. We are committed to creating and maintaining a child safe organisation where all children and young people are valued and protected.

All children and young people regardless of their age, gender identity, sexual orientation, ethnicity, religious beliefs, ability and family background have the right to be protected from harm and to be treated with dignity and respect. We are an inclusive organisation that recognises and respects diversity and we are committed to proactively supporting and building the cultural safety and inclusion of all children and young people in Mansfield Shire.

We recognise, respect and observe Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people's cultural rights. We are committed to creating a culturally safe and inclusive environment in which the diverse and unique identities, experiences and cultural rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children and young people are respected and valued.

As a child safe organisation, we are committed to providing welcoming, safe and accessible environments where all children and young people feel valued and listened to.

The safety and wellbeing of children and young people we work with or come into contact with will always be our priority. We have specific policies and procedures in place to support our people to achieve these commitments.
