

Mansfield Train Station & Wetlands

TIMELINE

The following timeline is a brief summary of the site's history between the rail closure and the beginning of the Mansfield Station Precinct Activation Project. It includes some of the projects and proposals put forward by the community and local, state and federal government.

The community of Mansfield has had a close relationship with the site since its time as an active train station.

Since the closure, work and funding for projects on the site has come from different sources including community groups, individuals, philanthropic trusts and all levels of government; this level of interest, community ownership and engagement has driven the need for an integrated approach to ensure a supported and sustainable future for the Precinct.
